Olympic Competition Format

Subtitle

The Olympic Games Paris 2024 Basketball competition consists of men's and women's tournaments.

The format and rules for both tournaments are the same.

In the group phase 12 teams are divided into three groups of four teams. Each team plays every other team in its group.

The top two teams from each group plus the two best third placed teams will qualify for the quarterfinals. The remaining third placed team will be ranked 9th, and the three fourth placed teams will be ranked 10th to 12th according to the FIBA rules.

After the conclusion of the group phase, a combined ranking table is produced based on the following criteria:

Body

- Position within group
- Win/loss record
- Points difference
- Points scored

The top eight teams from this combined ranking table will advance to the quarterfinals.

The pairings of teams for the quarterfinals will be decided by a draw. The teams ranked 1st and 2nd in the combined ranking table will be drawn against the teams ranked 7th and 8th, and the teams ranked 3rd and 4th against the teams ranked 5th and 6th. Teams will not be matched against another team from their group in the quarterfinals.

The winners of the quarterfinals will qualify to the semifinals. The winners of the quarterfinals involving the teams ranked 1st and 4th in the combined ranking table will play in semifinal 1, and the winners of the games involving the teams ranked 2nd and 3rd will play in semifinal 2. The losers will be eliminated and will be ranked 5th to 8th according to the FIBA rules. The winners of the semifinals will play in the final for 1st and 2nd place (gold medal game) and the losers will play in the final for 3rd and 4th place (bronze medal game).

Sport Rules and Procedures

Game Description

The main object of basketball, like any team sport, is to gain the highest number of points to win the game. Basketball is played by two teams of five players each. Each team attempts to score into the opponent's basket, and to prevent the other team from doing so. The ball may be passed, thrown, tapped, rolled or dribbled in any direction, subject to the restrictions laid down by the rules of the game.

The playing court is a rectangular, flat, hard surface free from obstructions. For the main official FIBA competitions, the dimensions are 28 metres in length by 15 metres in width, measured from the inside edge of the boundary line. The height of the ceiling or the lowest obstruction must be at least seven metres. The ring is placed 3.05 metres above the ground.

The game is played in four periods, 10 minutes of actual playing time each. There is a 24 second time limit for each ball possession, the clock will stop whenever a Referee blows a whistle. Each team consists of five players on the field and seven on the bench. Substitutes can take their part in the game and there is no limit to the substitutions. If the regulation time ends in a tie, as many extra periods of five minutes as necessary are played until one team emerges as the winner.

The scoring rules allow one, two or three points for a successful shot. One point is awarded for shots from the free throw line, two points are awarded for shots from all positions within the 6.75 metres line. Shots beyond the 6.75 metres line are awarded three points. Each player is allowed five personal fouls after which he/she is disqualified from that game, but he may be ejected earlier for misconduct, or a major flagrant foul.

Tie Break Rules

- Classification during, and after, the group phase:

Teams will be ranked based on the following criteria:

1. Win/loss record: two points for each game won, one point for each game lost (including lost by default) and zero points for a game lost by forfeit.
2. If two or more teams have the same win/loss record, the best record in head to head games between the tied teams, provided that all the tied teams have played one another, based on the following criteria:

- Win/loss record in the games between them
 - Higher points difference in the games between them
 - Higher number of points scored in the games between them
 - Higher points difference in all games in the group
 - Higher number of points scored in all games in the group
3. If two or more teams have the same win/loss record, and none of the tied teams have played each other, based on the following criteria:
 - Higher points difference in all games in the group
 - Higher number of points scored in all games in the group
 4. If at any point a tie is partially broken, the procedure should be repeated from the beginning for the remaining tied teams
 5. If a tie between two or more teams cannot be broken, FIBA ranking will be used to determine their ranking in the group.

- Classification in the combined ranking table:

In order to classify teams across group (e.g. to determine the best third placed teams), the following criteria shall be used.

If all teams in all groups have played the same number of games, the teams on the same position in each group shall be placed in one group and the following criteria shall be used in the following order:

- Better win-loss record of all games played in their revised final group standings
- Higher game points difference of all games in their revised final group standings
- Higher number of the game points scored in all games in their revised final group standings
- If these criteria still cannot decide, the relevant FIBA ranking shall decide on the final classification

If teams have played a different number of games, the combined ranking table will be created based on FIBA rules.

- Game:

If the score is tied at the end of playing time for the fourth period, the game will continue with as many extra periods of five minutes as are necessary to break the tie.
